

Important Note

Negative Control

Dear user,

Per OSHA 29CFR1910.1200, Commonwealth of Australia [NOHSC: 1005(1994), 1008(2004)], Regulation (EC) 1907/2006 (REACH) and Regulation (EC) 1272/2008 and their latest amendments, the following products do not require a Safety Data Sheet (SDS). They do not contain more than 1% of components classified as hazardous and do not contain more than 0.1 % of components classified as carcinogenic, mutagenic or toxic for reproduction. Therefore QIAGEN does not provide a SDS for any of the following products.

However, when working with these or any chemical reagents, we always recommend the use of gloves, lab coats, and eye protection.

QIAGEN assumes no liability for damage resulting from handling or contact with these products.
